

TATA CAPITAL LIMITED

POLICY FOR DETERMINING INTEREST RATES, PROCESSING AND OTHER CHARGES

1. INTEREST RATE MODEL

Loan Assets created by Tata Capital Limited ("TCL") shall be priced primarily based on the Cost of Funds ("COF") and risks associated with the quality of the counterparty and their possibility of default. The COF represented by the borrowing rate of TCL varies according to market conditions and, thus, the pricing of new loans is impacted by any change in the COF.

In addition to the COF, credit risk premium associated with particular borrowers or pools of borrowers, administrative costs and profit margin while deciding the pricing, besides the current level of interest in the market for similar lending activity.

The borrowing rate for TCL is dependent on the maturity period for which the funds are borrowed. Similarly, the loan assets are priced based on the borrowing rate corresponding to the maturity or tenor for which the asset is created. In case of floating rate loan assets, the pricing is based on the COF or borrowing rate corresponding to the reset period or similar such parameter.

Based on the above, the Company's existing Benchmark Prime Lending Rate ("PLR"), as reviewed, with effect from a date as may be approved by the Managing Director of the Company which shall be as follows:
